A Message from Pastor Bruner

Dear Brothers and sisters in Christ,

This summer, many people in Michigan will have the opportunity to visit a beach. Not to oversimplify life, but we can learn a lesson about life from building sand castles on the beach.

No matter how much effort we put into the process, sand castles are either squashed by someone or washed away by the waves. Sand castles don't last very long.

Like sand castles, life is fragile. Our "kingdom" can be destroyed by others or some event will tear down our walls. An important lesson for us to learn is that our security comes from God. What He does will survive, even when our efforts crumble.

What this means is that although we serve God, there will be set backs. There will also be opportunities to start again and even try something new. As we continue to "build" through the ministry at St. Paul Lutheran, we are reminded not to worry, but turn to God. Our hearts are comforted by knowing that He will provide peace and guard us.

Philippians 4:6-7 states, "Do not be anxious about anything, but in every situation, by prayer and petition, with thanksgiving, present your requests to God. And the peace of God which transcends all understanding will guard your hearts and your minds in Christ Jesus."

Has your life been smashed by someone or torn down by a painful experience? Do not be anxious. On account of what Jesus did for each of us on the cross, God promises He will never forsake us or leave us. He can build what no one can tear down or take away. For more comfort from God's Word read Deuteronomy 31: 6,8; Psalm 34: 17-19 and John 14: 27.

Remember- you matter to God and you matter to me,

Pastor James Bruner

Psalms 71 – A psalm for an older believer struggling with assaults on his faith, including temptations to think that his faith was in vain. Since Ps 70 is “of David” and Ps 72 is “of Solomon,” perhaps this is a Davidic psalm composed near the end of his life. By proclaiming the saving deeds of the Lord, he meets the challenges of old age with faith, hope, faithfulness, witness, and praise.

Psalms 56 – Even in the midst of danger, David rejoices in God’s love and His certain deliverance from death. When we face trials, we may be tempted to worry about our own welfare or feel like giving up in hopelessness. Instead, we can remember that our problems are nothing new and that God is able to help in every situation. Through these experiences, He strengthens our faith and draws us closer to Jesus Christ, our Savior.

Psalms 94 – The social and political situation seems to say that the wicked reign. Tension between trust that the Lord is in control and agony of seeing injustice and evil prevail dominates the beginning of Ps 94. Worse, that wickedness could very well be from Israel’s religious and political leaders, not merely a foreign power attacking the people. Internal corruption in the highest places has made life oppressive. Ps 94 is a plea for God to repay these oppressors so that justice returns; it trusts that God will be victorious and will discipline and care for His faithful people.

Psalms 14 – Though atheism and irreligion are increasingly accepted, indeed even fashionable in modern societies, there are destructive beliefs that finally lead to moral abandon and eternal death. Because this psalm clarifies the depth of human sinfulness, it also illumines the greatness in Jesus’ redemption. He atoned for all the sins of all people and graciously calls all, even the most perverse, to forgiveness and eternal life.

Psalms 51 – This anguished cry of confession from the depths of guilt finds God’s absolution and renewal on the certain footing of grace alone. Sin is an inheritance, born in us, ever damaging us. None of our works can ever set us free from terror, despair, or death. However, God has blotted out even the worst of our sins—adultery and murder—by Jesus’ sacrifice.

August 2016

“Don’t worry about anything, instead pray about everything. Tell God what you need and thank Him for all He has done. Then you will experience God’s peace, which exceeds anything we can understand. His peace will guard your hearts and minds as you live in Christ Jesus.”

Philippians 4:6-7

This is our new school theme verse for the year. These verses remind us not to worry but to count on our heavenly Father for EVERYTHING. It also tells us to pray and thank Him about and for EVERYTHING!

As you read this, the teachers and staff are getting things ready for a great school year that starts September 6. We are looking forward to a great year filled with learning, growing and strengthening friendships...especially with our best friend, JESUS as well as finding ways to sing God’s truths in this world where He has placed us.
