St. Paul Lutheran Church & School

October 2022

"We are God's servants, saved by grace, through faith, commissioned to share the Word of Christ to all."

A Message from Pastor

Dear Brothers and Sisters in Christ,

The little girl received a present from relatives she had never met before. It was not an attempt to buy her love. They were simply trying to break the ice and put her at ease. They thought the gift was something that most children enjoy. She was excited to receive a wrapped present. She quickly removed the paper and opened the box. Inside was a coloring book and a box of crayons. Her body language and face fit the words she immediately said. "This is not what I ordered." It was not that the gift was inappropriate. Her reaction was due to the fact that she had recently placed an order for a different item and she was anticipating its arrival.

Every day we receive gifts from God that are appropriate. Our disappointment comes from the desire to have something we have chosen for ourselves. When God does not deliver what we want, we are like the little girl. We say, "This is not what I ordered."

Has life been going different than you had planned or desired? The gifts God gives us each day are appropriate. He wants to bless us and have a close relationship with us. He knows what is best, even though we think what we "ordered" is precisely what we need. Trusting God's will for us can be challenging.

We can ask God for the right gifts trusting God loves us. "Satisfy us in the morning with your unfailing love, that we may sing for joy and be glad all our days." Psalm 90:14

Remember – you matter to God and you matter to me,

Pastor Jim Bruner

Sundays at 9:45AM

Parents: St. Paul is committed to the Christian education of both you and your children. The Enduring Faith curriculum brings the truth of God's Word to you and your children at a level which will be both fun and engaging for the whole family. This flexible curriculum nurtures life-long disciples of Jesus. Age-appropriate biblical activities vary based on the following levels.

Preschool–Grade 2 Faith Spark: Meets in the Daycare Room - Discover Leaflets have interactive coloring and drawing activities.

Grades 3-5 Faith Flare: Meets in the Projects Room - Bible Guidebooks have colorful images to draw in students.

Grades 6-12 Faith Ignite/Faith Flame: Meets in the Youth Room – Gr. 6-8 Defend Journals have thought-provoking questions to encourage critical-thinking skills. Gr. 9-12 More in-depth Defend Journals help students defend their faith to those who may challenge them.

Adults Faith Blaze: Meets in the Parish Hall Will study God's Word in Pastor's Bible Studies.

We will also offer adult supervised toddler care for children too young to attend the early childhood program. Materials include opportunities for parents to extend the lesson into the week with their children. Strengthen the faith of your entire family by attending this program. Looking forward to parents bringing their children to learn God's Word and then attending Pastor's Bible Study.

Pastor / Church Worker Appreciation

October is Church Worker Appreciation Month

Just as the Apostle Paul confessed, so divinely called and ordained pastors also confess: "through me the message [of Christ] might be fully proclaimed that all people might hear it ... believe it ... and have saving faith."

God established the pastoral office through Jesus' own institution. He still mandates the pastoral office to this day. Pastors serve in the preaching office. Pastors are sent. Paul uses the Greek word apostello. Sounds like apostle, doesn't it? This apostello, or "sending" happens when God calls pastors into the pastoral ministry and calls them from one congregation to the next. The preaching Paul is talking about is the preaching of the Word of God, centered on proclaiming Jesus Christ for the forgiveness of sins and eternal life. Through the preached Word of God's called and ordained pastors, the Holy Spirit works saving faith in the life and soul of His people ... in your life.

The Lutheran Church—Missouri Synod has established other important vocations in the church. Pastors are "Ordained Ministers." We call all the other church work vocations "Commissioned Ministers." These include: the Lutheran school teacher, director of Christian education (DCE), director of Christian outreach (DCO), director of family life ministry (DFLM), director of parish music (DPLM), director of church ministries (DCM), and deaconess. We say these important, sacred and joyful commissioned vocations are "established in love by the Church to support the Office of the Holy Ministry" (LSB Agenda, 222). We appreciate and give thanks for all God's people in their many and various vocations — husbands, wives, parents, children, workers, employers, youth, widows, everyone! Luther names these in his table of duties in the Small Catechism.

But today, we recognize and give thanks to God for those who serve Him and His people in full-time vocations, specifically pastors and commissioned workers. Pastors preach and teach the eternal Word of God for the life and salvation of God's people. The pastor represents Christ to God's people, caring for their souls with the Word of God, with the Body and Blood of Christ, in instruction and Holy Baptism. Pastors speak God's Word into all circumstances of life, especially at the time of death, preparing God's people for eternal life.

The Lutheran school teacher teaches God's Word to our children in the classroom that they may know Jesus Christ, the forgiveness of sins, and life in heaven forever. The DCE instructs God's people with the true Word of God and often influences the faith life of our youth and teens. The Deaconess applies God's Word with acts of mercy to women and children, the aged and infirm, and many more. The Director of Parish

Music teaches the Word of God and helps form the faith in young and old through sacred music and the liturgy. The Director of Christian Outreach helps the people of God give witness of the faith through the Word of God. The Director of Church Ministries helps administrate the congregation decently and in good order under the Word of God.

We pray for our church workers, and we give thanks for their work among us. In order to destroy the faith of God's people, Satan targets those who preach and teach God's Word. No work on earth is easy due to the Fall, but the church worker often fights a deep spiritual battle against Satan, sinful sheep, and his or her own sinful flesh. Yet, daily, our church workers fight the good fight — they fight the beautiful, outstanding, distinguished battle of being faithful servants of the Word. They run the race daily, despite little prestige, often low wages, church politics, and work that is seldom measured or completed. Like St. Paul, they often stand alone, with very few standing by them when they teach the faith and strive to make it a priority in the lives of the congregation.

But the work of our church workers is honorable. It is sacred. It is joyful. Our church workers serve the God of salvation and proclaim a Gospel that is the one thing needful for our life and salvation. Our church workers are grounded in Jesus Christ. And God has promised to them and to all who believe in Christ that a crown of righteousness is laid up for them — not because of their merit, but because of the merit of Jesus Christ, whom they serve. And with all who believe in Jesus Christ, our church workers are rescued finally and safely on the Last Day by the blood of Christ. They shall see the day of our Lord's appearing, and like you, be joyously welcomed into Christ's heavenly kingdom.

This month we celebrate Martin Luther and the Reformation, which began when Luther nailed the 95 Theses on the Wittenberg Castle Church door. Luther re-focused the church on Word alone, grace alone, faith alone, Christ alone. Our church workers teach these eternal truths.

Through me ... St. Paul said, "Through me the Gospel might be fully proclaimed." We say this also of our church workers — through them the Word of God is taught to us in whom the Holy Spirit works saving faith. Today, we give thanks to God and pray for our church workers who teach the Gospel from one generation to the next. And all this — life and salvation, the one thing needful for the forgiveness of our sins and our eternal life, is Jesus Christ who says, "through Me you have eternal life." Amen.

LWML PLEDGE

In fervent gratitude for the Savior's dying love and His blood-bought gift of redemption we dedicate ourselves to Him with all that we are and have; and in obedience to His call for workers in the harvest fields, we pledge Him our willing service wherever and whenever He has need of us. We consecrate to our Savior our hands to work for Him, our feet to go on His errands, our voice to sing His praises, our lips to proclaim His redeeming love, our silver and our gold to extend His Kingdom, our will to do His will, and every power of our life to the great task of bringing the lost and the erring into eternal fellowship with Him. Amen.

LWML PRAYER

Dear Creator God,

Thank you for forming and fashioning a group of women 82 years ago, who in turn formed and fashioned a church women's group. They worked for You and praised You in service to our church and community. Thank you for the young women and girls who will someday continue the legacy established 82 years ago. They will work for You and praise You in new and unique ways. Thank You for the women who are working and praising You now as members of Dorcas LWML. They share their time, talents, and treasurers with servant hearts. Thank You, Heavenly Father, that You give us opportunities to work for You in Your kingdom and praise You with the gifts with which You have blessed us. Help us do what You created us to do – bring glory and honor to You. Amen.

College-Bound Student? It's Not Too Early or Too Late

Now is the time of year many parents are filling freshmen pockets or thinking about their student's future plans. How about getting a CEF ExtensionPlus Debit Card? Opening an ExtensionPlus Account is a great way to provide savings dollars for college students with easy access to funds. For 18-year-olds, this is a perfect solution. Parents can give college students a fixed budget (there is no credit associated with the card), and the whole family participates in the ministry of Church Extension Fund. Your account will be earning competitive rates of interest while building places for the Gospel of Jesus Christ to be shared. For more info. 800-242-3944.
